GOVT ADDRESS

Reimagining a Digital Nation with Innovation & Sustainability at its Core

Dr Neeta Verma briefly outlined how digital transformation is at the core of every strategy of every organization today. She discussed virtual courts, paperless budgets, digital signatures and payments and cashless transactions. She also spoke about how Arogya Sethu App became popular during covid and how its unique combination of technology, data analytics and AI & ML is now being transformed into a health app. She discussed their vaccination platforms, and how they are a help to the government in managing their flagship programmers.

She also threw some light on the uses of Direct Benefit Transfer and the importance of Language technology in the coming days and how technology has brought a lot of transformation in the delivery of services to the citizens.

Various initiatives under Digital India Programme have changed the digital profile of the country, with 700 broadband connections that have connected people across the length and breadth of the country"
